Terms of Use for the sale of Limited Edition Software Suites

Limited Edition Software Suites are sold at HALF of the commercial retail value with the understanding that the software and documents provided on the Limited Edition may contain errors. Customers are warned that the software and documents are provided in exchange for suggestions on what needs to be changed, clarified, or otherwise improved for the future commercial editions. Purchasers MUST understand and give permission for their name to be added to a unique group that will receive updates to the Limited Edition suite at NO CHARGE until a commercial edition is published by the Biofeedback Foundation of Europe. The Limited Edition suite may also contain warnings and recommendations from leading clinicians for the off-label use of biofeedback devices.
